II. Introduction

The Yemeni occupation force continues to follow the policy of extra-legal killings; which represents physical liquidation and political assassination against the southerners in the occupied South Yemen. The cause of concern is that the crimes continue to happen under the silence of the international community, especially the High Contracting Parties of the Fourth Geneva Convention. The failure to stop such crimes and practical actions will encourage the Sana'a regime to commit war crimes against the Southerner.

Since the onset of Peaceful Southern Movement in July 7th 2007, we have paid close attention to these kinds of crimes. We delivered our message throughout the world to inform them about how dangerous these crimes were. We urged the international community to intervene to put pressure on the Yemeni occupation to stop such crimes. We relied mainly on the basis of accurate and updated information by human rights organizations, newspapers, media, and websites for documentations of all murders committed by the Yemeni occupation forces over the years of occupation.

This report is the third of its kind that we issued about the crimes of extra-legal killings and physical liquidation committed by Yemeni occupation forces against the South. It covers the time period from February 9, 2010 to February 3, 2011. It is an update of two previous reports. The first report covers the time period from July 7, 1994 to February 8, 2009; which documents 215 murders and political assassinations. And the second report covers the time period from February 9, 2009 to February 9, 2010; which documents 147 murders and political assassinations.

This period of the third report is under the review; it shows an increase of murders and assassinations. The number of crime killings is (170) murders and assassinations. The killings include southerners who worked for Sana'a regime's security and military forces. The number of death of the Sana'a regimes southern employees is (49) assassinations.

Sana'a regime does not hesitate, at the highest levels, to confirm continuing committing extra-legal killing against the South. In fact, On August 15, 2010 the Yemeni President, Ali Abdullah Saleh, emphasized the need to "Strike with an iron hand anyone who tries to touch on the unity of Yemen".

The speech was during his presiding on a special meeting of leaders of the Ministry of Defense and Interior.

Also, Sana'a regime claims that the criminal military actions such as killing and injuring civilians, displacing thousands from their homes, and the military siege of cities and villages are within the context of the war on terrorism. For example in October 18, 2010, the Yemeni Organization for Defending Human Rights and Democratic Freedoms states there were twentieth villages in Abyan governorate have been flying bombing by Yemeni army. Pointing out that the missiles attacks were preceded by artillery and tanks under the pretext of combating terrorism. The villages that were bombed are (Ahumayra, Amnagdah, Almnyasah, Asalamiyah, Amaain, Aljawof, Ekkd, Khrof, Kurt Alasaos, Sakun Alda'ana, Ormah, Haban, Hubail Almjnnah, Alhumaimah, karen Ammarm, and Thaobbah). A disabled person, Abdullah Ahmed Saleh Alafthani, was victim of the bombing and wounded three women, Mona Abdullah Ahmad, Aminah Nasser Ahmed, and not recognizing name of the third. Also injured four children, and behind the bombing damage to physical and psychological among the population of the villages that were bombed. The organization also announced its condemnation of the bombing, demanding an end to the bloodshed and destruction caused to the cities and villages of the South, and demanded the international community and human rights organizations and humanitarian intervention.

III. The methods used in Attempted Killing:

During the period covers by the report, the Yemeni occupations forces continue commit the outrageous killing crimes against southern civilians at their homes, workplace, or while walking in the streets. And methods of killing were as follows:

- 1- Kill the participants at peaceful demonstrations.
- 2- Assassinate the Southerner who works with military and security forces.
- 3- Kill the Southerner at the military check points.
- 4- Murder by the indiscriminate shelling of the cities and the villages
- 5- Kill detainees inside prisons as a result of torture.
- 6- Kill civilians in their homes.
- 7- Run over the civilian by the security forces vehicles.
- 8- Transfer southern soldiers serving in the military and security forces to the hot spots.
- 9- Make the southern soldiers in the security sweeps in front of the army at night to be a target, note that the combing is army function.
- 10- Recall the southern soldiers in the military and security service from their vacation and reposition them in tense areas.

IV. Ambiguities and Contradictions of the War between the Sana'a regime and Al-Qaeda:

Politicians, journalists, and observers question the security and military campaign that carry out by the Sana'a regime on al-Qaeda in the South. They also emphasize that the war on al-Qaeda has a political nature. The goal of accusing the Peaceful Southern Movement as terrorism movement is to eliminate Southern Movement. On December 20, 2009, Abyan governor, Ahmed Almissri, pointed out to Al Jazeera channel that there is a difference ideologically and politically between the Peaceful Southern Movement and al-Qaeda. Also he denied any relationship between the Peaceful Southern Movement and al-Qaeda terrorist activities. The politicians, journalists and observers also emphasized that the security and military campaign directed to the Western countries to get more aid to help the regime in its (war on the terrorism). Especially, these clashes coincide with the meeting of Friends of Yemen in London, Riyadh, Abu Dhabi, Berlin and New York. The fact that the world knows that al Qaeda is a creation of the Sana'a regime and its security services.

Sana'a regime is trying to appear to the world as a fighter against terrorism by claiming of chasing al-Qaeda alleged members in the south. While all the operations that took place killed only innocent, terrorized the citizens, and demolish the houses and farms. The world knows that al Qaeda is a creation of the Sana'a regime and its security services; this was confirmed by Sheikh Humaid Bin Abdallah Al-Ahmar, deputy of the Yemeni parliament and leader of the opposition in Islah party, on a television interview with channel, "Suhail" on 4 January 2011. He states that al-Qaeda comes out from the presidential house, noting that "Fawaz al-Rubaie" has been working in presidential house before he was declared al-Qaeda member, he added: All whom engaged in a dialogue with the security service after get out of security jail they become leaders of al Qaeda, and moving with an official permits between the provinces.

Usually, the regime accused that it's targeted as al Qaeda members, so it give a moral character for its crimes against them. However, security sources of the Sana'a regime could not break out of contradictory habit. In September 19, 2010 the security source confirmed the death of two al-Qaeda members in clashes with security forces in Lauder city in Abyan governorate: Sabri Naser Musa Alwahishi and his brother Khalid. Nevertheless the Abyan governor, Ahmed Almisri, denied that those who died were Al Qaeda members (The Yemen News Agency «Sheba»). The contradiction appeared on another incident, in September 23, 2010, security source confirmed the arrest of al-Qaeda member, Mohsen Bahnhn, and killing four soldiers and three wounded in clashes with al-Qaeda. But Shabwah governor, Ali Hassan Al-Ahmadi, denied the killing of four soldiers, and he emphasized that Sheikh Mohsen Bahnhn is well-known figure in society and has nothing to do with al Qaeda.

V. Human Rights Watch Report:

The Human Rights Watch exonerated the Peaceful Southern Movement from any violent acts or the involvement of armed protestors. According to the In the Name of Unity: The Yemeni Government's Brutal Response to Southern Movement Protests report, the vast majority of large organized protests in South Yemen, particularly those in urban centers such as Aden and Mukalla, have not involved armed protestors and non-violent. However, the main protests have seen violence from protestors, usually after security forces attempted to block the protests or fired into the crowd, drawing rock-throwing in response from demonstrators. In its report also, the organization accused the security forces, and Central Security in particular, have carried out widespread abuses in the south—unlawful killings, have carried out widespread abuses in the south—unlawful killings, arbitrary detentions, beatings, crackdowns on freedom of assembly and speech, arrests of journalists. The report was lunched in Sana'a in the presence of Joe Stork, deputy director of Human Rights Watch's Middle East and North Africa division, and Christoph Wilcke, senior researcher of the Organization. Recommendations to the Government of Yemen:

1- Ensure that state security forces abide by international policing standards, including the UN Code of Conduct for Law Enforcement Officials and the UN Basic Principles on the Use of Force and Firearms, when responding to protests, and in particular restricting the use of firearms to situations of imminent threat of death or serious injury, or the equivalent.

2- Establish an independent commission of inquiry with full authority to investigate the use of excessive force by the state security services against Southern Movement protests which should report speedily.

3- Investigate and hold accountable, through prosecutions, disciplinary proceedings and other measures, state security officials who have engaged in, or ordered the use of, excessive force against unarmed protests.

4- End the arbitrary detention of protesters by the security forces, and release those who remain in detention without charge. Any remaining detainees should be speedily brought before an independent judicial body with the power to review their detention and order their immediate release.

5- End the use of vague and overbroad criminal charges, such as articles 125 and 126 of the Crimes and Punishment Law of 1994 that punish by death anyone who “intentionally undermines the independence of the republic and its unity and the integrity of its territory,” and “broadcasts news or ... false rumors ... or intends advocacy causing panic among the people or weakening the people’s moral spirit,” respectively, and article 136 that punishes with three years in prison “broadcasting false news ... or rumors ... with the intent to disturb public order ... or damage public interests.” Repeal these articles, and amend articles 127, 128, 129, and 131 to remove overly broad and vague charges.

6- Ensure that pro-government organizations, including the Committees to Protect Unity, do not engage in vigilante violence against government critics and opponents.

Investigate, and if appropriate prosecute, all allegations of violence by pro-government militias as well as opposition forces.

VI. Conclusion

As the Yemeni occupation a contracting Party to the Fourth Geneva Convention of 1949 on the protection of civilians in time of war, it is incumbent upon to application of the provisions of this Convention. It is a legal and ethical responsibility of Contracting Parties to the Convention to work to ensure the application of the provisions of this Convention in the occupied South. Also hold accountable those responsible for any grave breaches, and provide protection to southerners civilians there. Article (3) of the Fourth Geneva Convention for the Protection of Civilians in Time of War stated that " the following acts are and shall remain prohibited at any time and in any place whatsoever with respect to the above-mentioned persons: 1 (a) violence to life and person, in particular murder of all kinds, mutilation, cruel treatment and torture." Article (146) of the Convention provides emphasizes: "Each High Contracting Party shall be under the obligation to search for persons alleged to have committed, or to have ordered to be committed, such grave breaches, and shall bring such persons, regardless of their nationality, before its own courts. It may also, if it prefers, and in accordance with the provisions of its own legislation, hand such persons over for trial to another." Article (147) of Grave breaches to which the preceding Article relates shall be those involving any of the following acts, if committed against persons or property protected by the present Convention: wilful killing, torture or inhuman treatment", such practices constitute a serious violation of the right to life, one of the most fundamental rights of humanity and the Fourth Geneva Convention, which emphasizes the need to provide protection to the population under the Convention from the brutality of military occupation force. It also shows that the persistence of the occupation in the crimes and serious violations of international law is due mainly to the absence of any mechanism of accountability for these crimes

In the face of Yemeni practices, we calls upon the international community and the High Contracting Parties:

- 1- To immediately intervene to stop war crimes committed by Yemeni occupation forces against Southern civilians and to force Sana'a regime to respect the Convention in the South;

- 2- To take concrete measures to stop war crimes and other violations of international humanitarian law committed by Yemeni occupation forces against Southern civilians and ensure Sana'a regime's respect for the Fourth Convention in the South;
- 3- To provide immediate international protection for Southern civilians in the South.
- 4- Appeals to the United Nations to send a committee to investigate the facts quickly.
- 5- Demand the United Nations to find ways and means to stop the repeated attacks of the Yemeni occupation authority on the peaceful people of the south.
- 6- Activate the UN Security Council Resolutions 924 and 931 of 1994, and to commit the Sana'a regime to fulfill its obligations towards the international community in July 7, 1994, to find solutions to the issue of the South through direct dialogue and internationally sponsored.
- 7- Demand human rights organizations, Arab and international relief to carry out its duties towards the displaced the southern that are being exposed to the worst forms of oppression and abuse under the pretext of artificially in order to terrorize and subjugate the Southern by force of the occupation.
- 8- Demand the world and the civil organizations to solidarity with the struggle of our people in the south in order to restore their own freedom and sovereignty over all its land.

P.S: We would like to point out that the report may not cover all the number of martyrs and the dead, but it reflects the realistic indication of the human rights situation in the south, which is a continuation of the 1994 war. We call upon all those who wish to participate and contribute to enrich of this report by adding information not addressed by the report by sending us an e-mail that shown above.
